Working at the Crossroads of Life and Death

A false confession is an admission of guilt for a crime for which the confessor is not responsible. False confessions can be induced through coercion or by the mental disorder or incompetency of the accused. Research demonstrates that false confessions occur on a regular basis in case law, which is one reason why jurisprudence has established a series of rules—called "confession rules"—to ...

Commented Sep 10, 2018 10:30:01 by anonymous. Not sure, I used to shinny up these poles in the playground when I was in 4,5,6 grade and I felt a "throbbing" when I hit the top of the pole.

First orgasm - Raw Confessions

Stepping into school can sometimes feel as though you are entering a new dimension. Once the doors shut, it can be hard to remember that the rest of the world continues to turn and the adults go about their daily lives. No, once we walk down the hallways, it's all about who's wearing what and [...]

Today many of our communications with parents are through email, blogs and classroom websites. Interactive conversation is a tool we use less and less often. Sometimes there are sensitive, personal, individual or important topics that should be discussed in person over the phone. A good practice is to send positive notes or emails throughout the beginning of the school year.
